The Ballot-Box Case.

Second Day's Work of the Investigation Committee.

FORAKER STILL ON THE STAND.

He Reviews His Connection With Wood and Others Directly Interested in the Affair—The Ex-Governor Does Not Finish His Testimony Before the Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Ex-Governor Foraker continued his testimony before the ballot-box investigation committee. Governor Foraker reviewed his connection with Wood, and produced a letter in answer to one from the latter, in which the governor stated that he would indorse Wood for the position of smoke inspector when the information promised him about the ballot-box contract would be forthcoming.

Later Wood called on him at the Gibson house in Cincinnati, when the governor was entertaining the president. He saw Wood for fifteen minutes, and obtained from him several papers. Wood also gave witness three papers which he called state contracts. With respect to the "gun contract," Wood gave the governor a letter addressed to Mr. Campbell from Commissioner Hall, of the patent office, stating that a patent for a gun had been granted to Lieut. William H. Bell, of Fortress Monroe, Va. Wood told him that for several years Mr. J. E. Campbell and Col. T. E. Campbell had been interested in buying up all gun patents.

With those papers Wood gave the governor two others, one the draft of a bill for the relief of William Bell. This provided that letters should be granted to Bell for certain inventions.

The other paper was another draft of a bill appropriating $20,000 for the purchase of Bell's patents and gun improvements. Wood told the governor that these were a part only of a number of papers of the same kind given to him for investigation.

The governor heard from Wood again Sept. 2, in a letter dated Gibson house, Cincinnati. The letter stated that Wood was to meet a party at Baltimore to secure what Wood termed the old contract entered into by Mr. Campbell, in connection with the ballot-box bill. Wood asked for a letter of introduction to President Harrison, which the governor gave.

The witness said that Wood telegraphed him from Washington Sept. 6, agreeing to meet him in Cincinnati on the following Sunday, but on that day he did not put in an appearance.

Sept. 9 a telegram came from Wood at Cincinnati asking the governor where he could be seen. The governor replied as follows on the same day:

"Here, where you promised to see me. Unless you come to-day you need not come at all."

The Washington mail came in after the telegram was sent, and in it was a letter dated the Metropolitan Hotel, Washington, Sept. 8, in which Wood said he had the valuable paper in his pocket.

The witness produced copies of a number of telegrams that passed between himself and Wood at this time. Wood telegraphed from Cincinnati, Sept. 9, that he would mail the important paper that night, or come to Columbus the following day. At this point the governor stated that he understood that the forgery was not committed until the next day. Another telegram from Wood said that he would be at Columbus at 11 on the morning of Sept. 11. The governor telegraphed Wood to mail the papers to him at Columbus or to meet him there on the following Wednesday.

Wood called on the 11th and gave him the forged paper. He found there the name of Senator Sherman, and was surprised. He was not surprised to find the names of Messrs. Butterworth and McKinley. Wood said that the name of Senator Sherman was not on the paper when he last saw it. Witness had never seen the signature of Mr. Campbell. He sent Mr. Kurtz, his private secretary, to get a book of biographical sketches in which he found Mr. Campbell's signature and portrait. He noticed at the time that in the book the signature was "James E. Campbell," while the paper had it "J. E. Campbell." Maj. McKinley's signature he would have sworn to. Maj. Butterworth's signature seemed a little different from the way he usually wrote it. This bothered him a little at first, but it seemed all right.

Senator Sherman's signature seemed to be genuine. Wood asked if it didn't look as if it had been done with a stamp. Wood told the witness that he received the paper in Washington from Walter Wellman, the private secretary of J. R. McLean. He applied to Wellman for the paper, and the latter telegraphed to Saratoga to Mr. McLean, asking permission to give it to him. The permission was obtained and Wood took possession of it. Wood said that Senator McPherson was a director, and had at one time been president of the Newark, N. J., Electric Lighting company, which manufactured the ballot-boxes.

The governor figured on the cost of the boxes to be furnished the government, and made the sum $1,152,000. After becoming satisfied that the paper was all right the governor recommended Wood to Mayor Mosby, of Cincinnati, for smoke inspector of that city.

Sept. 13, the governor compared the signatures of Senator Sherman, Maj. Butterworth and Maj. McKinley on the paper with letters from them on his file. They seemed to be genuine. He also sent for a man who knew Governor Campbell, and this man thought the signature on the paper was all right. The witness compared Governor Campbell's alleged signature with the initials "J. E. C." signed to one of the letters Wood had given him in connection with the Bell patents, and found them very similar.

The next day the witness went to Cincinnati. He put the paper in his pocket to show a representative of a Cincinnati newspaper. He met Mr. Halstead on the cars and showed him the paper. The witness told Mr. Halstead that he did not know how to make use of it.

In answer to a question from Mr. Wilson, witness said that he had made no allusion to the paper in any of his speeches.

Mr. Halstead commented on the paper, saying that it could be used. The governor insisted that it might throw his own party into confusion. Mr. Halstead said that he thought he could use it so far as Mr. Campbell was concerned. He thought his duty to do so. It would be a dereliction of duty to allow Mr. Campbell to be elected if he were connected with the ballot-box contract. As a journalist Mr. Halstead said he would be obliged to make use of it.

Shortly after this the governor delivered a speech in which he spoke of the ballot-box bill, stating that it required the attorney general to purchase within thirty days after the passage of the bill, a ballot-box for every election precinct in the United States, and that the attorney general had no alternative but to purchase the Hall & Wood company's box. He did not mention Mr. Campbell's name in this connection.

He saw Mr. Halstead again, and the latter asked for a photographic copy of the paper, which the witness gave him. Mr. Halstead up to that time had no definite plans for using the paper.

The witness then told of his earlier connection with Wood. Mayor Mosby refused to appoint the latter smoke inspector on account of charges against him. The witness heard that the principal charge was that he had a bad police court record. He wrote to Mayor Mosby asking him to hold up the appointment until he could get the promised papers from Wood.

There was some controversy at this point about what is called the "Dear Cousin" letter. Wood told Governor Foraker that Col. T. C. Campbell had received a letter about the ballot-box business from Governor Campbell addressed "Dear Cousin." Wood told the governor that the Campbells were cousins.

Governor Campbell's attorney in the forgery case, Judge Harmon, told the committee that the Campbells were not related, and that the address was shown to be "dear colonel."

Gen. Grosvenor tried to find this letter among his papers, but did not succeed.

A number of letters from Wood to Governor Foraker about the ballot-box and gun carriage contracts were produced, and the committee, a few minutes before noon, adjourned.

THE HAND OF FATE

It Falls Heavily on the Ohio General Assembly.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 18.—Senator Thomas Q. Ashburn, of the Brown-Clermont district, died at 10:30 a. m. yesterday of pneumonia, superinduced by la grippe. He was first taken ill on Friday, but on Tuesday went to the senate and voted for Mr. Brice for United States senator, and on his return to his room never left it. He was born in 1820 in Clermont county, and his wife is Gen. Grant's first cousin. He was admitted to the bar in 1845 and had served fifteen years as common pleas judge and three years on the supreme court bench. This was his first term in the legislature in which he was the ablest member.

Senators Howell and Wallace are both sick, and Representative Brown has been taken home to Findlay, to die. Representative Taylor, of Urbana, is down sick and a half dozen of his colleagues have got leaves of absence on account of illness. Sickness has so disrupted and decimated the legislature that no important legislation will be enacted until the three vacancies by death are filled and the dozen sick members get well, or their successors appear.

Mark Twain Sued.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Suit has been entered against Mark Twain for heavy damages by Ed. H. House, the well known journalist and author, who claims that he contracted several years ago with Twain to dramatize his "Prince and Pauper." He seeks also to enjoin the proposed performance of the stage version written by Mrs. Abby Sage Richardson, at the Broadway theatre Monday night.

Brazil Recognized.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The consul general in New York of the Argentine republic, states that on Dec. 3, that government formally recognized the republic of Brazil, and fixed Dec. 8 as a day of National celebration of the event. On the latter day flags were displayed and all public places illuminated in Buenos Ayres, and salutes were fired by Argentine men-of-war at home and abroad.

The Montana Deadlock.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 18.—There is a break in the Republican ranks in the senate. Brown, Republican, is suffering from la grippe, and was taken to the hospital Thursday, and the senate now stands eight Democrats to seven Republicans. The Democrats and Republicans held another conference Thursday to discuss plans to end the deadlock, but the conference was without result.

Deaths in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—The board of health reports 160 deaths in the last five days. This is the largest number that has ever taken place here in the same period. The cause to some extent is attributable to influenza.

Shear Works Burned.

FREMONT, O., Jan. 18.—The Claus shear works of this city were destroyed by fire last night. Loss $50,000. Insured for $41,000. They will be rebuilt at once.

Proceedings of Congress

The World's Fair Again the Subject of Discussion.

THE SELECT COMMITTEE WINS.

All Matters Relating to the Exhibition Will Be Referred to Nine Members of Congress—But Little Else Transacted in the House While the Senate Was Not in Session—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—In the house yesterday a petition from Philadelphians engaged in the silk industry favoring a bill to modify the law relative to duties on imports and the collections of the revenue was presented and referred.

Mr. McKinley called up his motion to table the motion to reconsider the vote by which the house refused to substitute the resolution reported by the committee on rules, as amended by the adoption of the Cannon resolution, for the original resolution referred to the committee. Mr. McKinley's motion was agreed to, yeas 144, nays 142.

The question then recurred on the adoption of the original resolution, that a select committee of nine members be appointed by the speaker to be called "The World's Fair Committee," to whom shall be referred all matters relating to the proposed celebration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America or the world's fair of 1892. The resolution was adopted—yeas 141, nays 136; Mr. Springer, of Illinois, changing his vote from the negative to the affirmative in order to enter a motion to reconsider.

Mr. Springer said that he only desired that the committee should be instructed to report next week to the house a plan by which the location might be selected. As it now stood the committee would be authorized to select the location. He withdrew his motion to reconsider, stating that he would trust to the fairness of the committee and the house.

The New York world's fair bill was then introduced by Mr. Flower, of New York, and it was referred to the special committee when appointed.

Mr. Raines, of New York, offered a resolution increasing the membership of that committee from nine to thirteen. Referred to the committee on rules.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the Oklahoma town site entry bill, and pending action on a proposed amendment to the first section of the bill, the committee rose and the house adjourned.

The senate was not in session.

Removals in the Pension Office.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Gen. Raum, commissioner of pensions has recommended to Secretary Noble the removal of Henry A. Phillips, of New York, chief of the middle division pension bureau. Mr. Phillips was one of the employees of the office whose pension was re-rated during the administration of Corporal Tanner. Several months ago he was asked by the secretary of the interior to resign, but failed to comply with the request. No further action was taken in this case until yesterday.

It is understood that some action will soon be taken in the cases of nearly all of the thirty employees whose pensions were re-rated. In the interval that has elapsed since the resignation of two of the employees were requested, the friends of the re-rated have had an opportunity to speak in their behalf. This opportunity has not been neglected, and numerous letters have also been filed requesting their retention in office.

It is stated that while all these employees will not be discharged, yet it is not the intention to allow them to continue to occupy positions of importance in the pension bureau. Those that are not discharged, it is said, will be reduced to subordinate places. The action in the Phillips case is understood to be only a beginning, and other changes in the same line will follow.

In his letter to the secretary, requesting the dismissal of Mr. Phillips, Commissioner Raum states that he thinks such action will promote the efficiency of the service.

Bookkeeper Found Dead.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Thursday afternoon a messenger passing No. 1824 Sixth street, saw within the open doorway and an old man lying apparently unconscious on a couch. He summoned assistance, and it was discovered that the man had suicided by taking laudanum. The dead man was Thomas Davis, a bookkeeper, 58 years old. He leaves a wife and several children. He drank the laudanum at the end of a prolonged spree.

Recognized By the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The president has recognized Santiago Perez Triana, as consul general of Salvador in the United States, and Robert H. Davis consul of Hawaii, at Philadelphia.

Snow Blockade Ended.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 18.—The snow blockade came to an end yesterday afternoon, the first passenger train arriving at Alamosa from Durango. It was one of the most severe storms of the season. The snow drifted in many places twenty feet deep, and in the cut where the trains were stalled the snow is now six feet above the cars. None of the passengers suffered, as they had plenty of food and fuel.

KILGORE, Ky., Jan. 18.—A well known citizen named James Sawthern was killed last evening, falling late in a coal bank at Music, three miles from here.

Judge Dies of La Grippe.

SIMCAL, Ont., Jan. 18.—Robert T. Livingstone, county judge of Norfolk, died yesterday of pneumonia, superinduced by la grippe.

CARS WRECKED AND BURNED.

Five Human Beings Burned Alive and Others Fatally Injured.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18.—A frightful railroad accident occurred on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad just north of this city, yesterday evening. Accommodation train No. 77, leaving Glendale at 6:25 standard time and due at Cincinnati at 7:10, arrived at Winton Place twelve minutes behind time. Its schedule was 6:42. It arrived shortly before 7 o'clock, and proceeded on its way to the city after a short stop. Shortly after it left Winton Place, the Strong engine pulling the Monon Chicago vestibule train came in sight.

The station agent at Winton Place put out the block signal for it to stop there, but it was too late. The operator at Carthage, who should have signaled, failed to do so. Engineer Coakley saw the signal and put his hand to the throttle to stop the engine, but the great mass of iron, which excels in power and speed any other locomotive, dashed in under almost full headway. He pressed down in vain; and, not knowing that there was danger ahead, he probably did not pay any particular attention to the fact that the engine was not stopping.

Suddenly, about a quarter of a mile beyond Winton Place, the accommodation, traveling at its leisurely rate, came in sight. The engineer made a last vain but desperate effort. The Darwin refused to stop suddenly, but dashed majestically on to destroy the obstacle in its track, and Fireman William Bracker jumped from the engine, as did also the engineer. But Fireman John McCreery stuck to his post. There was a crash, a jar that only slightly jostled passengers in the vestibule, and the accommodation was a wreck.

The great engine plowed under the rear coach, and sent it crashing through the one immediately in front.

The accommodation engine jumped forward at the first shock and severed itself from the rest of the train, bursting its coupling and rushing on ahead, leaving the train to its fate. The two first cars were uninjured. The third one was badly smashed, and the fourth and fifth were telescoped into each other.

There were not more than thirty passengers on the accommodation train, the last coach containing about twelve. Among these were Conductor Wetherbee. But immediately the intensest excitement prevailed. All passengers who could rushed from the coaches, women screamed, men shouted, and there was nothing present to any mind but the overwhelming sense of disaster.

To add to the horror of the situation, the wrecked cars almost immediately took fire. With lightning rapidity the flames spread, rendering the work of rescuing those of the injured in the last three cars of the accommodation an impossibility. In the flames three people are known to have perished, and it is feared that the fatal list will greatly exceed that number.

The dead are:
F. W. Witherbee, of Toledo, conductor of the accommodation.

James Staley, of Dayton, baggage-master of the accommodation.

John Wilson, of Winton Place.

William Klamitz, of Carthage.

Charles Keller, of Winton Place.

The bodies of Wetherbee, Wilson and Keller were burned almost beyond recognition, while the other two men were taken from the wreck alive but died shortly afterwards.

The most seriously injured are: William Coakley, engineer of the Strong locomotive, slightly bruised and a sprained back, and John McCreery, fireman of the Strong engine, slightly cut about the face.

Coal Trains Wrecked.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 18.—A bad wreck of a coal train occurred yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Newburgh branch of the Erie railroad, between Washingtonville and Blooming Grove. From meagre particulars it is learned that one man was killed outright and another seriously hurt. The train wrecked consisted of about fifty empty cars and was run into by an extra going in the same direction, derailling several cars and precipitating four of them down a steep embankment. The track is badly blocked and trains have to go round by way of Turners. A wrecking train has been sent to the scene of the accident.

Passenger Trains Collide.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 18.—The Hannibal and St. Joe and the Rock Island passenger trains collided here yesterday. The coaches on the Rock Island and the engine of the other train were wrecked. Several passengers on the Rock Island train were injured, two seriously. They are Frank Trimball, of Atchison, Kan., and Joseph Galley, of Belknap, Iowa, both injured internally. The accident was caused by the engineer of the Hannibal train trying to pull into the depot ahead of the Rock Island train. The latter train had the right of way.

Death of a Patent Medicine Man.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 18.—A. S. T. Soule died here yesterday evening, aged 65 years. He was the president of the Hop Bitters company, and was the man who made that patent medicine famous by extensive advertising. The deceased had very large interests in western Kansas. He was the founder of Soule college at Dodge City, and the president and owner of the First National bank there. He also owned more than half of the town of Ingalls, which became the county seat of Gray county after a violent struggle with the residents of Cimarron. Mr. Soule was probably worth $2,000,000.

Sullivan Again Challenged.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Frank Slaven cables from London to The Police Gazette challenging Sullivan to a fight to a fight for $12,500 aside, London prize ring rules, in America or Europe, or to a finish with small gloves, Police Gazette rules, for $5,000 a side, at the California Athletic club, provided the club will add a $15,000 purse to the stakes. Slaven has posted a $2,500 forfeit.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
 Proprietors.
 SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1890.

CONGRESSMAN PAYNTER voted against the bill appropriating $75,000 to reimburse the Representatives for the money stolen by Silcott. A good vote.

MEASURES are pending in the Legislatures of West Virginia and Maryland to adopt a ballot system patterned after the Australian. Ballot reform is sweeping over the country.

IN 1889 losses by fire in Kentucky amounted to $3,885,375, upon which insurance to the amount of $2,610,489 was paid. August appears to be the most disastrous month with losses to the amount of $20,600,862, and January the least, with losses of $7,054,666.

IF Free-trade is such a boon to England and Protection such a curse to America, why is it that English capitalists are withdrawing their money from England and placing it in American enterprises? Don't all answer at once.—Maysville Republican.

How does this strike you? It has been such a boon to her that England has become the financial center of the world, thus enabling her to reach out and exact tribute from all sections of the earth.

THE public school fund in Kentucky of late years has been increasing at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, or four times as rapidly as the population. The amount paid out last year for this purpose by the Commonwealth was nearly $1,500,000. Kentucky hasn't any need for the Blair bill. The one thing necessary now to give us as fine a public school system as can be found in the Union is local taxation.

ONE of the most important measures introduced at the present session of Congress is the bill, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay to each State, respectively, 50 per cent of the revenue collected on distilled spirits. Under the bill those States not distilling will receive half of the revenue accruing from licenses. Under this bill Kentucky would get $4,000,000 annually. Such a measure is much better than taking the tax off whisky. Hon. John H. Wilson, one of Kentucky's Republican Congressmen, is the author of the bill.

It is said that Paris keeps her streets clean by not permitting them to get dirty. It is said that an American in that city tore a letter open, and as is the custom with many Americans, dropped the fragments of the envelope in the gutter. In an instant a policeman requested him to gather up the litter he had made. He being a sensible man promptly complied. There is an ordinance against dumping filth of any sort on the streets of Maysville, but a glance in front of some of the business houses will show that this ordinance is not enforced.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has thrown a couple more fire-brands in the camp of the Kentucky Republicans, of late, and is receiving the bitter denunciations of his political brethren at Paducah and Shelbyville. H. Mulholland, who has been appointed and confirmed postmaster at Paducah, is regarded as a carpet-bagger by the good Republicans of the place. He has lived there only a few years, and was vehemently opposed from the start. His appointment has demoralized the rank and file.

At Shelbyville the Republicans bitterly opposed the appointment of J. S. Vanatta for postmaster and after it was made preferred serious charges against him, but all to no purpose, as he too has been confirmed. Very few of the President's appointments in this State have given general satisfaction, and not many of them tend to strengthen his party.

How He Built Up His Immense Trade

The W. L. Douglas shoe advertisement has occupied a prominent place in the newspapers for many years. It has been seen far and near, appearing in at least one paper in nearly every city of any importance in the land. It didn't appear for a time and then disappear, but ran right along, continuously keeping before the public the "Douglas $3 shoe."

Mr. Douglas started his shoe factory in 1874, at Brockton, Mass. He commenced with a capital of $865. He is now doing a business of $1,000,000 a year. He is paying $70,000 a year for advertising, and his wonderful success in business is due more to the judicious and liberal use of printer's ink than to any other one thing.

Does it pay to advertise? Ask Mr. Douglas and he will give you an emphatic answer, and that answer will be: "Yes, it does."

When Blackburn Twists the Tail.

Judge Lindsay may scrape the sky; Billy Breckinridge may loosen a silver tongue; John Young Brown may climb the heights of sublimity; Jim McKenzie may be a soul-searcher; Proctor Knott may charm the ear and the heart; but the eagle screams loudest when Joe Blackburn grasps its tail. Blackburn's speech of acceptance before the Democratic Senatorial caucus is a gem of oratory as far removed from the "rut" as even Uncle Milt Durham's heart could desire.

Some Figures for Farmers.

"Here are some figures that should cause honest men to open their eyes, showing as they do the fraud that protection, so-called, is," says the Louisville Times. "Not only does agriculture bear the burden of taxation, but it regulates what is called 'balance of trade.' For the ten months ending October 31, 1889, our exports of agricultural products amounted to the enormous sum of $446,982,185, or 71.44 per cent. of the total, while our exportations of manufactured products amounted to but $124,318,559, or 19.86 per cent. of the total. To the agricultural column should be added exports of products of forests, $24,964,335, or 4 per cent. of the total. Now here are some other figures that should bring an idiot to a consciousness of the enormous iniquity of the tariff: In 1880 there were invested in farms in the United States $10,197,096,776; the number of persons engaged in that industry was 7,660,493; the value of the gross product was $2,264,278,718, or about $300 per capita. On the other hand there were invested in manufacturing industries $2,790,223,506; persons engaged in those industries, 2,738,970; value of their product, $5,369,667,706, or $2,000 per capita. There is the whole story. While the farmer furnishes a home market to the manufacturer, and a protected market at that, the manufacturer does not furnish a home market to the farmer, but compels him to seek the pauper markets of the world. The day must come when the farmer, who produces but $200 per year, will no longer submit to a tariff tax of 47 per cent. in order that he may 'protect' the manufacturer, who produces $2,000 per year. Now is the time to educate the people upon this issue."

Why?

"Hello, Mr. Editor, didn't I see this article in the BULLETIN several days ago?"

What's that?

"This article here in the Maysville Democrat headed 'Facts and Figures—In Reference to Mason County, as Shown by State Auditor's Report for Year Ending June 30, 1889?'"

Yes, the BULLETIN published that, word for word, several days ago, and it took us quite a while to compile those figures from the Auditor's Report.

"Strange, but why hasn't the Democrat given the BULLETIN credit for it? People who are not better posted will think the editor of the Democrat is a rather industrious fellow."

Legislative Doings.

The House has passed a bill increasing the salary of the State Treasurer from $2,500 to $3,000.

Representative Frazee has introduced a bill to amend the charter of the Maysville Street Railway and Transfer Company.

The Governor has re-appointed Railroad Commissioners, I. A. Spalding, of Union County; W. B. Fleming, Jefferson County, and John F. Hagar, of Boyd.

County Court Doings.

Rev. W. C. Allen, a colored minister of the Baptist Church, was authorized to perform the marriage ceremony.

G. S. Judd produced a commission from the Governor and qualified as a Notary Public, with C. D. Newell surety. Thomas J. Markly qualified as administrator of Mary Markley, with Edward Marshall as surety. Thomas F. Gaither, Richard T. Gaither and Edward Marshall were appointed appraisers.

Young Housekeepers Should Know

That soda will clean tarnished tin.
 That vinegar and salt will clean copper.
 That butter is the best polish to put into starch.

That baking soda put on a burn will take out the heat.

That oil of cedar is sure death to vermin which infest chambers.

That toilet sets and all chamber articles should be cleaned in cold water.

That white lead will cement broken crockery, a ten-cent bottle lasting for years.

That disease often lurks in a dirty dishcloth, a greasy sink, an unclean tea-kettle and a poorly ventilated oven.

That flannels should be washed in hot soapsuds and rinsed in hot water containing soap enough to soften it a little.

That a carpet sweeper is invaluable in a dining room where small children eat, but should never be used for general sweeping.

That silver should be washed with a chamouis skin, saturated with silver soap, each time after use, thus avoiding a general cleaning.

That windows should never be washed while the sun shines upon them, as it is impossible to polish them without leaving blue streaks.

That preserving jars should be stood on their heads, for at least an hour after sealing, when the liquor will escape if the jar contains air.

That silk dresses should never be brushed with a whisk broom, but should be carefully rubbed with a velvet mitten kept for that purpose only.

BLOODY FRACAS

Between Railroad Men in a Delphos Saloon—Three Men Badly Shot and Cut.

DELPHOS, O., Jan. 18.—A bloody riot took place here Friday morning about 10 o'clock, in which twenty-five or thirty men were engaged. One William Clark, night yardmaster of the Clover Leaf at this place, together with two of his switchmen, attacked John Kane and Charles Knoll, who, it seems, had been calling the men scabs and other disagreeable names.

About twenty shots were exchanged, several taking effect. Clark was shot twice through the left arm, and once through the left leg; Knoll received serious injuries about the scalp and face which will probably prove fatal. An unknown man was cut about the chest, but it is thought not seriously.

The fray took place in Joseph Meyers' saloon, which is sadly demolished. Kane has left for parts unknown, but the authorities are on his track. Three of them now linger in the city jail. They will all have a preliminary hearing before the mayor.

Factories Flooded Out.

CAIRO, Ill., Jan. 18.—The water is ten feet above the danger line at Mt. Carmel, and the lower portion of the city on the river bank is flooded so that business is entirely suspended, factories and saw mills being compelled to close down, throwing several hundred men out of work. The river has fallen five inches during the last twenty-four hours, and, unless there is a further rise, business will be resumed early next week.

MR. CHARLES ROSENAU, of the Bee Hive, is in the East on a business trip.

STRAWBERRIES, raspberries, cherries and apples, three cans 25 cents—Calhoun's.

CAPTAIN GEORGE W. TUDOR has been ill several days with the prevailing epidemic.

J. A. HAWKINS was appointed postmaster at Hillsboro, Fleming County, Thursday.

T. B. OLDHAM was commissioned a Storekeeper and Gauger for this district yesterday.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR WADSWORTH has recovered from his tussle with the Russian influenza.

MR. AND MRS. W. B. PERKINS, of Tollesboro, will celebrate their golden wedding next Tuesday.

H. S. TRUE, of Dover, took 100 bushels of potatoes and 1,000 dozen eggs to Pittsburg this week.

MR. THOMAS ALLISON'S family, near Washington, are nearly all ill with the prevailing influenza.

THE office of postmaster at Dover pays about $500 a year, and the recent scramble for it was a lively one.

DR. MATHERS, Representative from Nicholas County, is reported critically ill from neuralgia of the heart.

THE Hamilton-Shackelford breach of promise suit pending in the Circuit Court has been passed until next Thursday.

JUST think of it—36-inch tricot cloths for 19c. yard; 40-inch plain cloths, 24c. yard; 58-inch broad cloths, 39c. yard, at the Bee Hive.

WATCH for the big advertisement of the Bee Hive in next week's paper. It will be of vital interest to every housekeeper of Mason County.

J. H. LAWVILL, formerly of Maysville, is engaged in the agricultural implement business at Fayetteville, O., as a member of the firm of Shoop & Lawwill.

THE people of Maysville want an election law patterned after the Wallace law of Louisville. That will put an end to the bumper element around the polls.

THE Reliance is filling the place of the Silver Wave, while the latter steamer is receiving repairs. The Wave broke some of her chains in the storm a few days ago and had to go on the docks.

At the Church of the Nativity to-morrow the services will be: Litany, sermon and holy communion at 11 a. m., Sunday school at 3 p. m., evening prayer at 4 o'clock.

If you owe Ballenger, the jeweler, anything, call and settle and get a ticket on that elegant combination diamond ring, lace-pin, stud and bracelet for every dollar you pay.

THE "Harvard Quartette" composed of students of Harvard College, will give a concert at the opera house some time next month. They come under the same management as the Swedish Ladies, who were here recently.

THE assessed valuation of property in Kenton County is $28,283 874, an increase of about $3,000,000 over last year's figures.

HON. W. H. WADSWORTH, who has been suffering from an attack of the "grip" several days, was much worse this morning.

Farmers who unders'and their own interests are now doing all they can to prevent the further destruction of insect-eating birds.

"SI PERKINS, of Pughtown," will be at the opera house to-night with his band and his "Agitator Threshing Machine." Go and see him.

TOM O'BRIEN will swing Feb. 27th, at Lexington, for murdering Bettie Shea. The date of the execution was fixed by the Governor Thursday.

You will be the gainers by visiting the great dress goods and underwear sale at the Bee Hive. No such values ever before known in Maysville.

THE Bee Hive advertises men's merino underwear, 19c. a garment; red flannel underwear, 39c.; ladies' ribbed vests, 29c., former price 50c., children's all-wool hose, 5c. a pair.

THE annual meeting of the Oddfellows Funeral Aid Association will be held Monday night, January 20, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. A full attendance desired.

MR. ED DYSARD, formerly in the employ of the C. and O. Railroad Company, but now with the K. U., as Superintendent of the Telegraph Line, was in town yesterday and this morning while en route to his home in Greenup.

ONE more fine art entertainment will be given at the Baptist Church in Aberdeen to-night for the benefit of the new M. E. Church. The views are all different from those exhibited last week, illustrating a tour up the romantic, historic river Rhine, through Germany, into Switzerland and among the Alps.

MAYOR TAYLOR, of Frankfort, vetoed the ordinance recently passed by the City Council at that place prohibiting the sale of cigarettes in the corporate limits. The Council, by unanimous vote, then passed the ordinance over the Mayor's veto. The law is approved by nine-tenths of the citizens of Frankfort.

M. E. INGALLS and wife, of Cincinnati, have conveyed the large lot just east of the old gas works to Edward T. Anderson, also of Cincinnati, for $5,000 cash. Mr. Anderson has leased said lot to the C. and O. Railway Company for the period of ninety-nine years at an annual rental of $300, with privilege of purchase at the end of five years for $5,000.

DR. BROWNING has had a relapse more serious than his original attack of the "grip." Much exposed to the ugly weather of Tuesday and Wednesday, on Thursday night his condition was thought so serious that his son, Clint, of Cincinnati, was telegraphed for. He improved yesterday and may be in his office to-day, but is not able to attend to out-side patients.

"SI PERKINS" will entertain the people at the opera house to-night. Of the play the New Haven (Conn.) Herald says:

The largest audience of the season witnessed Frank Jones' company play "Si Perkins" at Lawrence Hall last evening. The play gave excellent satisfaction and the orchestra was the best that appeared here for many months. The crowd was kept in the best of humor by Frank Jones' wit and enjoyed the performance from beginning to end.

A YEAR without summer was 1816, which was by far the coldest ever known in the United States. The winter preceding that noted summer was so exceedingly mild that fires were scarcely necessary, about such a winter, apparently, as the present one has been so far. In 1816 there was 'snow and ice in June, July and August, and scarcely any crops raised.—Exchange.

THE Kentucky Central people are rushing their work on the company's shops at Covington, and when the new buildings are completed the company will have very commodious quarters for their business at that point. They now want thirty more first-class brick-masons, and will pay 50 cents per hour, requiring them to work during all weather deemed by the company suitable. Brick-masons desiring to take advantage of this opening will apply to Hugh G. Bowles, agent.

At Lexington, architects are licensed at $25 a year; auctioneers, $25; builders, $10; billiard tables, $35 each; bootblacks, $5; horse dealers, $25; coal dealers, $35; pension agents, $25; commercial agents, $25; ball-rooms, $25; agents, $25; flying-horse arrangements, $50 a week; hucksters, $12.50 a year; insurance companies, $50 to $100; lotteries, $250; meat store, $40; brokers, $150; "Uncle" shops, $250; pool-rooms, $500; photographers, $25; freight agents, $25; skating rinks, $25; shooting gallery, $25 per month; laundry, $50 per year; telegraph companies, $250; omnibus, $20; ice wagon, $20; coal cart, $10; wholesale liquor, $100.

The Churches.
Rev. B. W. Mebane will preach to-morrow at the usual hours at the Central Presbyterian Church.

The recent revival in the Mayslick Baptist Church resulted in fifteen additions to the membership.

A revival conducted by Revs. Savage and Hughes in the M. E. Church, South, at Dover, has resulted in several additions.

Dr. Thayer will preach at the Christian Church to-night and to-morrow at the usual hours. Baptismal services after the sermon to-night.

The Pastors' Union of this city will meet next Monday at 2 p. m., in the study of Rev. J. E. Cox at the First Baptist Church.

Services at First Presbyterian Church to-morrow, morning and night, at the usual time, conducted by the pastor, Rev. John S. Hays, D. D.

Services at the Baptist Church to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., conducted by the pastor. Subject of the sermon at 11 a. m.: "The Solemn Charge;" at 7 p. m.: "Jephtha's Sacrifice, or The Devoted Daughter."

Rev. J. O. A. Vaught, of Millersburg, will conduct the services to-morrow at the M. E. Church, South, preaching morning and evening at usual hours. This is his fourth year as pastor of the church at Millersburg.

Elder Robert T. Mathews, pastor of the Main Street Christian Church, has recently been tendered an advance of $400 per annum on his salary by his appreciative flock. This, however, Mr. Mathews declined, stating that he was thoroughly satisfied with $2,100, his present salary, and any additional funds at the disposition of his people, he would prefer being devoted to the missionary or charitable objects.—Lexington Leader.

For the Farmer.
According to good authorities and observers quail are the most effective enemies of the chinch bug of any of the feathered tribes.

Potatoes too small for sale or for seed should nevertheless be saved. If boiled and mixed with corn meal they make excellent food for pigs.

Sheep digest their food more thoroughly than any other domestic animals, consequently sheep manure is one of the best of animal manures. Lands pastured by sheep increase in fertility.

According to figures compiled by a London firm the "number of sheep known to be in domestication throughout the commercial world" is 521,153,217. Nearly half of them are to be found in Europe and North America.

Kentucky's tobacco crop last year, it is claimed, will amount to 190,000,000 pounds. In 1888 it was 300,000,000 pounds. Kentucky produces four-fifths of the Western tobacco crop and fully one-half of the entire crop of the country.

A new pest has appeared in Massachusetts which is more rapacious than the potato bug. It is called the gypsy moth comes in swarms that number millions, and makes short work of vegetation on which it settles. Governor Brackett calls attention to it in his recent annual report, and Prof. Fernald, of Amherst College, says that it will likely spread over the entire country.—Exchange.

A New Depot—Other Railway News.
The K. C. is erecting a seven-span iron bridge over Houston Creek, at Paris, and is making other improvements at that point.

The C. and O. will build elaborate shops at Clifton Forge, Va., where the mechanical business of the road will be mainly conducted.

The Kentucky Central will use the old depot for passenger business on and after February 1st. Repairs will be made at once, to make it as suitable as possible for such use until a new depot is built, which will be done in the near future.

Within the past year 100 miles of new steel rails, weighing seventy-five pounds to the yard, have been laid over the mountain divisions of the C. and O., and rolling mills are now delivering rails for another 100 miles, which are being laid.

The proposed Louisville, Cincinnati and Virginia road about which Winchester talked so much a year or so ago has collapsed, and there was a scramble at Winchester among the creditors last week to save themselves by gobbling up a few dollars the company had on deposit there.

The C. and O. Railway now receives freights here for Cincinnati and points west up to 5 p. m. every day except Sunday. Such shipments to be ready for delivery or transfer in Cincinnati at 7 o'clock the following morning. This is a decided improvement over the old closing hour of 11 a. m. for western freights.

That Special Election.
The special election in the Second ward to-day to fill the vacancy in the City Council is more lively than was anticipated. The vote at 11 a. m. was as follows:

Wm. Pepper, Jr.....22
M. F. Kahon.....82
Dr. Adamson.....1
Dr. Adamson is not a candidate.

Business is Improving.

This is According to Dun's Review of Trade.

THE WEATHER IS THE CAUSE.

Colder Weather Adds to the Volume of Business but Sickness Causes a Slight Disturbance—Tardy Collections Reported from a Number of Places—Failures of the Past Seven Days.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says important improvement in "business is noted wherever the recent change to colder weather has been felt. Elsewhere, unseasonable weather is still the chief complaint, but everywhere interception of business and manufacturing by the prevailing sickness is observed, and many factories have been forced to close because so many of their employees were unable to work. At one or two eastern points this interruption appears to be passing away, but it is still widespread and serious.

To nearly all kinds of trade it means, not only delay in production or dealings, but some shrinkage in the ability of great numbers to purchase products. But in spite of this the volume of trade is large. East-bound shipments from Chicago last week were 131,792 tons, much the largest ever known. The exports of provisions are heavy, the lard movement last week reaching 14,582,862 pounds. The clearings of banks last week were not only the largest on record for that part of the year, but showed an increase over last year of 12 per cent. outside of New York.

The weekly output of pig iron Jan. 1 was 174,038 tons, against 169,151 Dec. 1, and 131,398 a year ago. This implies a slight increase in production last year over previous estimates. The surprising increase in output has led many to wonder in what way the enormous quantity now made can be consumed, and inquiries indicate that there is in the aggregate some accumulation of stocks. It also appears that the market for bar iron is somewhat unsettled, with a tendency toward concessions, and plate iron is less firm. Structural and sheet iron and nails are steady, but some uneasiness is noticed in the market for steel rails. Unless consumption of finished products is not only sustained but expanded, the output of pig iron can hardly continue at the present rate. The stagnation in anthracite coal is aggravated, but although the trade is narrow, and 20,000 miners are reported idle the weekly output exceeds the output a year ago by 60,000 tons. Prices are demoralized, and the bituminous coal, though very active, is easier.

The cotton industry is disturbed only by sickness, and demand for goods has slightly improved. The heavier woolen goods are seriously depressed by the unseasonable weather. But there is a marked revival in the trade for domestic worsteds and light goods, believed to be due to the changes last year in treasury rulings, now for the first time felt. The boot and shoe industry is largely felt, and the two textile manufactures somewhat disturbed by labor controversies in eastern states. Reports from various quarters are on the whole more favorable.

Mild weather has caused much depression, but wherever colder weather has appeared there is clear and quick recovery. Collections are quite generally slow because of retarded distribution, but uneasiness is reported at only a few points. All southern reports note active trade.

The money markets here and elsewhere show on the whole rather more pressure, which the business progress and the tardy collections explain.

Business failures during the last seven days for the United States 303, for Canada 31, total 336, compared with 373 last week. For the corresponding week last year the figures were 384 in the United States, 46 in Canada.

NO STAR OF BETHLEHEM.

Professor Pickering Says Tycho Brahe's Luminary is Not the Light of Magi.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 18.—Professor Pickering, of Harvard university, discredits the report from Vienna that the "Star of Bethlehem" is again to be visible this year, being its seventh appearance since the birth of Christ. He says: "The report is probably the unauthorized revival of an old rumor that the star, erroneously called the 'star of Bethlehem,' was to make its appearance; but as this statement has been made several times since 1884, when the star was looked for by some astronomers, there is doubtless nothing in it. The star was the one discovered by Tycho Brahe in 1572, and was named for him. It appeared quite suddenly in the constellation of Cassiopeia, and had brilliancy greater than that of any of the planets—so much so that it was visible in the daytime.

"It was believed by some that this star had appeared in the same position 312 years before, or in 1260; and, assuming this interval of appearance to be correct, it would have been visible about the time of the Christian era, and it was thus termed the star of Bethlehem. If its return was after 312 years, the time of its reappearance would have been in 1884, but nothing has yet been seen of it. Such a phenomena at the present day would have the highest value to astronomical science, for by the use of modern instruments observations could be taken and information gathered that would be of the greatest assistance in a series of experiments now in progress. There is, however, so much doubt in the matter that it is of little use to surmise as to the star's reappearance.

Death Sentence Pronounced.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18.—Blythe, the murderer, has been sentenced to hang April 6, for the killing of Col. Jones last July. He was taken to the penitentiary at Columbus last night.

Lottery Agents Indicted.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 18.—The grand jury has indicted seven lottery agents that have been selling tickets in this city. It has created quite a sensation.

CUT OUT HIS BLACK HEART.

A Christian Murders an Atheist to End the World of Him.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 18.—John Kuhn, who murdered his bed-fellow and warm personal friend, William Christen, in a cheese factory in Primrose, this county, on Dec. 12, 1888, and then fled to England, where he was arrested, has pleaded guilty and been sentenced to state prison for life. He says that for some months previous to the murder he and Christen had been together at the factory. They were friendly, except that Christen was in the habit of ridiculing religious matters, thus causing Kuhn much annoyance.

On Dec. 12 Kuhn read a chapter from the Bible about David, and Christen replied the Hebrew king. Then he went to bed and fell asleep, the men having joined in a drink to "restore peace." Kuhn began to reflect that his companion, being very wicked, would be better dead than alive. The more he thought of this, the more he was finally convinced that Christen ought to die. So at 10 o'clock he got out of bed and seized a heavy stick of wood with a sharp knot on one end. He returned to the bedroom and brought the bludgeon down on the victim's face. Christen sprang out of bed and attempted to defend himself but the billet of wood descended again on his skull and he fell back.

Kuhn administered several more crushing blows, beating the life out of his victim. Then he dragged the body into the cellar where he cut the head off with an ax. Taking out his knife he began to cut up the body with the view of seeing whether Christen's heart was black. He succeeded in removing the organ and declares that it had indeed begun to turn black. He also removed the lungs and other organs. Then he put the body in a sack and buried it. The heart he placed in another grave, after which he knelt and prayed that Christen might be mercifully dealt with in the other world. He also prayed to be forgiven himself if he had acted wrongfully.

He buried the heart separate from the body, because he thought if the heart should go to hell, the body would be safe from such a fate. The head, liver and other organs were put into another bag and thrown into the Sugar river, where they were found by boys fishing. He spent Thursday in clearing up the traces of his crime and on Friday left the country.

Kuhn is believed by his attorneys to have been influenced to commit the crime through religious zeal, and yet they think him entirely responsible for his deed. Kuhn is about 24 years old.

ATTENTION, FARMERS!

Save your horses and money by using the

Blair Separable Collar.

This Collar is opened at the bottom, and commands the attention of every consumer upon the following facts:
First—It prevents breaking the Collar at the throat.
Second—It avoids the removing of sweat-pads from the Collar.

Third—The advantages of putting on a Collar with this fastener, in cases where the horses are troublesome, is very great. As for strength, it is simply perfect. Come and examine it. It is a first-class, all-wool kip, and the price is the same as an ordinary Collar. Every Collar warranted and satisfaction guaranteed. For sale by
